Studio1886 is a design studio located in the heart of Paris.

Drawing on its know-how, some of which goes back hundreds of years, and its desire to adapt constantly to changes in the market, the Alliance 1886 group has created Studio 1886 to meet the expectations of the major fashion houses, providing a unique space, backed by a network of experienced partners and workshops, capable of taking your projects from their creative beginnings to production.

Under the watchful eye of a team of technical and design experts, we produce a range of textile finishes to suit your needs.

Our team of professionals (designers, embroiderers, production managers) are trained in a wide range of finishing techniques, and work closely with our customers to understand their requirements and objectives.

Our workshops, located in Europe, offer high quality, competitive production times.
Studio 1886, a listening ear, a response, a product...

The projects for our customers :

Our European production workshops will produce your projects, from prototyping to series production, in line with your requirements and specifications.

The flexibility of our production sites means that we can respond effectively to the needs of our customers' projects, while ensuring that quality and deadlines are met.

Our network of qualified partners completes our capacity and diversity of production tools.

These carefully selected workshops enable us to offer volumes and solutions for large-scale production, thanks to units located in Europe as well as outside the EU.

Co-creation :

Research into finishing techniques adapted to your requirements.

Research and proposal of materials.

Computer graphics service.

Creation of prototypes.

Management and monitoring of production through to delivery. We can provide you with a creative space in our workshops where you can work on your projects.

Our eco-responsible approach :

Jablonex, our Bohemian glass company, has developed the world's first collection of GRS (Global Recycled Standard) certified recycled glass beads and buttons.

Actively listening to concerns about up cycling, eco-responsibility and GOTS production.

Offering a collection of products made from certified organic, recycled and GOTS materials.

Our clients :

Our customers are mainly the luxury ready-to-wear and Haute Couture houses in Europe.

Our diversity and versatility enable us to broaden our areas of development, including bridal, ceremonial, accessories, embroidery for uniforms and formal wear.
